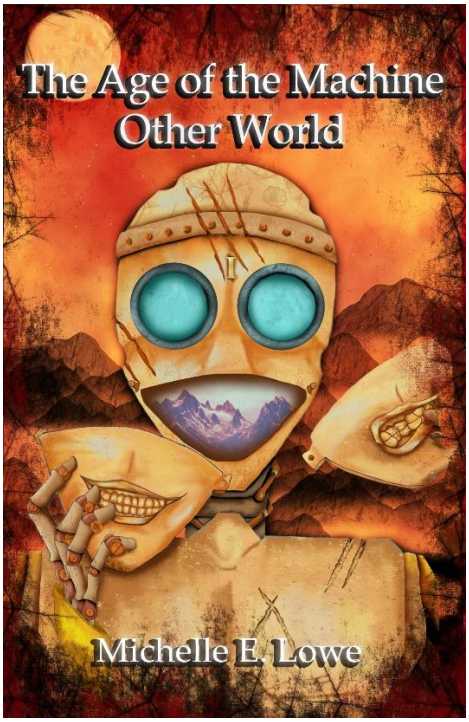
Where the city sinks shall determine the fate of our world!

At last, the Age of the Machine Era has arrived! And with it comes the Machine War. Infantry Regiment—and Living Automaton—Jarrott Watford, leads the charge and builds an army of hybrid soldiers to fight after commandeering a whole fleet of airships. He and the other machine people then flee to Europe to continue to grow their forces. Joaquin Landcross, son of famous ex-thief, Pierce Landcross, answers the call of duty and leaves his island home to enlist in the British Army and join his older brother, Kolt, and a number of other soldiers on a mission to help destroy the advanced technology that the Machine Army has developed. A major battle is about to take place, threatening to destroy England's capital. At the same time, a sinister plan is underway, one that goes far beyond the destruction of a mere city.

Available at Amazon

After a lifetime of adventures, Pierce Landcross and his wife, Taisia, have been enjoying their rest and peace in the In-Between. Yet, when the couple decides to rejoin the light of the mortal world, something goes terribly wrong. Pierce is unexpectedly yanked back to his old life! And not only is he sent back into his original body, but he discovers that this resurrection was orchestrated by none other than his very own physician, Dr. Duncan Hackett, who has been dubbed the Soul Thief for being able to steal spirits from the afterlife. Pierce desperately wants to return to Taisia, but there are too many obstacles standing in his way, including a strange mind illness invading certain areas of England! With so much happening, Pierce struggles to get by one day at a time in the hopes that he and his love will be reunited once again.

Available at Amazon



It has been 139 years since the machine people unleashed their disastrous chemical known as the “Ghost Fire.” Now, the oceans have dried up and nearly all manner of water is gone. Earth is dying. Pierce Landcross has crossed the eons to come to this barebones world. He is seeking two scientists who are heading for the Floating City to learn its secrets so they can destroy it back in their own era. The easiest way out of the mountainous ridge known as the Spine of the Atlantic is to travel through the Narrows. But the journey is not without its dangers. Earthquakes, volcanoes, and cross-bred supernatural beings lie ahead for Pierce as he tries to stop this global destruction from ever happening.

Pre-order a copy today! The Age of the Machine-Other World

Click here to preview the book in comic book form. WARNING! This material contains language, violence, and brief nudity. Enjoy! Other World Comic.

In the fourth and final book, The Age of the Machine-Ghost Fire, (coming in 2022) Pierce has returned from the future and reunites with his sons, Kolt and Joaquin, to bring the Machine City to the bottom of the ocean. The final clash has begun, one that will determine the fate of our world.

The Age of the Machine is the second series to steampunk/fantasy, Legacy, and its dieselpunk standalone, Boom Time, where you will be reunited with old characters from Legacy as well as be introduced to new ones!

If you would like signed copies from the author and if you live in the US, please visit her online Bookshop! Or visit her website at www.michellelowe.net

Legacy Series

About the Author

Michelle E. Lowe is the author of The Warning, Atlantic Pyramid, Cherished Thief, and the Legacy series, as well as the children's books, Poe's Haunted House Tour and The Hex Hunt series. Her works in progress include The Age of the Machine. Currently, she lives in Lake Forest, California, with her husband, Ben, and their two children.

Michelle E. Lowe
Ghostwriter

Let me help bring your story to life!